WE NOMINATE

Charles Klemm Agle, 51-year old planning consultant, who this week—before a jammed Princeton Township Committee meeting—rolled up his sleeves and let fly with some hard truths in beseeching Princetonians "to face facts and rise above the vicious complacency of insularity by joint comprehensive plans and prompt action." While many will not agree with Agle's concept of a permanent Princeton Green Belt, involving eight municipalities and three counties in the so-called Greater Princeton Area, Agle has rendered a public service by defining what he and his associates mean by a green belt for this community and by dramatically documenting some of the problems Princeton must solve if it is not to become just "Any Town, U.S.A."

Brought into the limelight by pressures generated in the Township's Edgerstoune section by the offer of a gift of "Stony Brook park land" to the Township, Agle explained Monday evening how a group of private citizens and institutions—acting in the absence of any effective governmental leadership—hoped to acquire and to donate to the municipalities concerned a 100-foot wide green belt, or parkway, encircling Princeton and to plant this band with adequate trees. The Stony Brook tract would be an essential part of this infinitely larger picture. Ultimately, as and if traffic continues to strangle Princeton, the need may develop to use this strip for local, non-truck, light traffic—not for through truck traffic. (See Topics of the Town).

Agle, who has carried forward "City Planning and Housing Consultation" in more than 100 cities and two years ago hammered out the Township Zoning Ordinance, insists that he is not offering a panacea but is urging "conservation of future opportunities." Emphasizing that Princeton probably qualifies in June, 1957, as the "most threatened community in the United States" and is now "precisely in the center of the greatest concentration of population anywhere in the world," he envisions an ever-rising traffic flow which in a period of years will top 20,000 vehicles a day. It is also his conviction that failure to plan for the future is attributable to the people of the Borough and Township "who neither know enough nor care enough about the future of the community either to encourage or insist that our local governments protect our future."

Successful as an architect as well as a planner, Agle points out that the "forgotten responsibility of our municipal governments is the preservation of community quality through the acquisition of additional open space to keep step with the expansion of population and the consumption of open land by subdivision into lots." The character of the Princeton area, he argues, "is more the result of the openness of the University and of large private holdings not yet cut up (before they get into estates) than any providence or foresight of either municipal body or the people. Likewise with roads: we still do not have even a complete continuous parallel to Nassau Street even on any Official Map."

For seeking to awaken the community to the "immediacy of the threats" confronting it on all sides; for taking a long look at the future and warning that the "automobile has made most of our streets, and all of our earlier thinking, obsolete;" for calling for action now; this Indiana-born Princetonian is Town Topics' nominee for

THOSE MEN ARE HERE AGAIN
Reunions Under Way. Dis-daining cover of darkness, a tribe of South African bushmen will move openly into Princeton this weekend, soon to hobnob gaily with several hundred members of the French Foreign Legion.

Not far from the spacious tents housing the latter will be squad after squad of bell-bottomed sailors, nattily attired in an Orange and Black motif that shatters beyond recall belief that blue is the traditional color of the U.S.
Navy. From other vantage points, the community will be the target of scores of brethren in Buster Brown suits, in cowboy outfits, in Depression Day blazers covered with gay patches, and in Fri-

It could happen only in Princeton and only on Reunion Weekend.

Every State in the Union and far-off lands ranging to Uruguay in the south and Japan in the east will be represented by the 5,000 returning Princetonians. In line with the trend of the postwar years, many of them will bring wives and children, for whom complete programs have been a part of the planning that begins—literally—as much as two years before the opening of a major reunion.

Much of the entertainment will be purely recreational in nature, and the warm June nights will carry the lilting beat of many a Dixieland Band. But the war brought another change in tempo that has become permanent: faculty-alumni seminars on a wide range of subjects feature the day time programs, offering an educational note to reunions that was unheard of 15 years ago.

How It All Began

Traditionally, Princeton University graduates celebrate their biggest, or "major," Reunions every fifth June; i.e., fifth, tenth, fifteenth, etc. This week end, Princeton Reunions will celebrate a "major," for this is the 60th anniversary of the phenomenon first conceived by fun-loving alumni back in 1897.

When the great P-Rade finds its way down Prospect Street on Saturday afternoon, tradition again will prevail, with the 25th Reunion Class of 1932 marching at the head of the long ranks. It will be the 51st such P-Rade, the first having been tried successfully in 1906.
Some 5,000 alumni will participate, a goodly turnout though a far cry from the record Victory celebration crowd of 7,300 back in 1946.

Saturday's leisurely, mile-long alumni P-rade will unfold the usual volume of hi-jinks, martial music and crashing array of color. Of the many floats planned for the march down Prospect Avenue to University Field, the most eye-catching will be a 40-foot Nike, recently de-classified anti-aircraft weapon which the Army is making available to the Class of 1950 "as a gesture in public relations."

Not to be outdone, the Navy will fly a blimp overhead with plans to liberate scores of balloons marked "1917." Hopes are that if wind conditions are right, they will float down rather than up, to become souvenirs of the day.

Walking in the P-rade is, of course, a tradition not to be lightly ended after a half century or more of such participation. Some 300 members of the "Old Guard," alumni graduated more than 50 years ago, will be on hand and many of them will walk from Nassau Hall to the Yale-Princeton baseball game.

Proudly labelled as "the oldest class planning to march as a unit" is 1897, a promise has been made by Princeton resident Neilson Poe. Other residents of the community who will mark the 60th anniversary of their graduation are David Magie, Archibald Gulick and Irving L. Roe. The class expects 25 to 30 members back for the occasion.

One of the oldest organized reunions in the University's history is planned by the Class of 1892, which has announced it will have half of its 16 living members back for its 65th. Alumni sons of the class will join them in a reception Saturday at the home of William K. Prentice on Boudinot Street.

"Honor classes" of the four-day gathering are 1907, celebrating its 50th with the Graduate College as its headquarters, and 1932, marking its 25th within the cloistered confines of Holder Court (where dormitory rooms and the adjacent University Commons combine eating and sleeping facilities with reunion activities.) To the dismay of many a young film fan, James M. "Jimmy" Stewart has found it impossible to make the cross-country trek from Hollywood to join the 325-plus members of his class who will be on hand.

In keeping with the alumni's deep-seated love of their alma mater, a major demonstration of their affection will be displayed in more lasting fashion. The 20-year class, 1937, will present Princeton with a check for some $200,000 in the form of matured memorial insurance. The figure is more than triple that raised by other classes earlier in the decade.

Other events through Tuesday will complete the 210th commencement program. Retiring President Harold W. Dodds will deliver his 24th and last Baccalaureate Sermon Sunday in the Chapel. Monday will be devoted to Class Day exercises on Cannon Green and the Senior Prom (held outdoors on the lower campus), with diplomas and honorary degrees being awarded Tuesday morning in front of Nassau Hall.

TRIO HURT

Bad Collision Here. Three motorists were reported in "satistactory" condition at Princeton Hospital as Town Topics went to press after being involved in a serious accident at the intersection of Province Line and Rosedale Roads about 3:30 p.m. Sunday. A fourth, driver of one of the two cars, Daniel Tomlinson, 24, of Doylestown, Pa., was released from the hospital following emergency treatment.

According to Lawrence Township police, who investigated the collision (just over the boundary line from Princeton Township), an auto operated by Antonio Man-

Mr. Mangone suffered a fractured clavicle, while his passenger, Michael Tamasi, 18, of 102 Spruce Street, sustained lacerations of the left ear and a possible concussion, and Wilbur Sienkiewicz, 21, of Forest Hills, N.J., a passenger in Mr. Tomlinson's car, received a concussion as well as lacerations and abrasions. The Princeton First Aid Unit rushed the injured men to the hospital. Patrolman Joseph O. Lessi cited Mr. Mangone with failure to observe a "stop" sign.

PERSONALITIES

Dr. Charles R. Erdman, 20 Library Place whose seemingly boundless energy (including well-directed efforts on behalf of the Princeton Symphony Orchestra) will be demonstrated anew Saturday when he marches in the annual P-rade as the oldest, (Class of 1886) returning alumnus.

Norton C. Jefferson, Cherry Valley Road, long-time plumbing and heating contractor, who caps years of service to the Princeton Lions Club by assuming the presidency of the town's oldest service organization. This week, the Lions reported successful financial outcome of two springtime ventures, the broom sale and the circus, thus replenishing their treasury for many worthwhile charitable and community projects.

Milton Babbitt, Associate Professor of Music at the University, whose original jazz composition, "All Set," was one of the hits of the fifth annual Festival of Creative Arts staged last week in Wellesley, Mass., at Brandeis University. Prof. Babbitt, who feels jazz is "an art to be recognized and fostered," earned the ultimate tribute from one of the musicians playing his 12-tone work: "Man, I dig your piece!"

LAND-GIFTS ACCEPTED

Township Committee Acts. More than three hours after the start of its June meeting on Monday evening, the Township Committee got around to item No. 2 on its agenda—approval of the annual fireworks display in Palmer Stadium. But, long before this action, all the verbal fireworks necessary for a bang-up show were released right in Township Hall.

Of particular consequence, the Committee unanimously okayed a resolution accepting gifts to the Township for park and road purposes of 50-plus acres belonging to the Edgerstone Corporation and Gen. Robert W. Johnson. The resolution adoption ended almost three months of off-bitter controversy, involving residents of the west side Edgerstone section and officials of the municipality, though not without a final night of accusations and counter-accusations.

Glen B. Miller Jr., 243 Russell Road, most outspoken of all critics of the land-gifts during the drawn-out running battle, led the opposition once more this week. He questioned the "park" reference in the phraseology governing the gifts, pointing out that much of the land lies in Stony Brook's flood plane, no parking is permitted, the width of the property is narrow for park purposes and it represents a tough police problem. He reiterated such previous statements as he still claim the right to a full hearing before the Township Planning Board and "we're worried about thru-traffic, and we're not convinced by by-pass plans." He also cited the loss of taxes due to the gifts of the Township.

Siding with Mr. Miller, other spokesmen among the 50-plus citizens in attendance urged a study of park areas and a parkway system, or even preparation of the Township's "master plan," before acceptance of the land-gifts during the meeting. Mayor Ralph S. Mason reminded his audience that the Planning Board already had endorsed approval of the gifts, and also stressed the point that the Committee wants the land with "no strings attached" in order to plan more properly in the future.

Victory for Agle. On the subject of future planning, Charles K. Agle, veteran planning consultant who has been the recipient of much adverse criticism concerning his "green belt" ideas and his handling of early, informal sessions of the Edgerstone, earned near-wholehearted support from the spectators by opening the continued public hearing with a 16-page prepared statement. Later, when the Committee took only 15 minutes in "executive session" to approve the Edgerstone conditions, Mr. Agle's hard-fought stand was vindicated. (See "Man of the Week.")

For the first time, the planning consultant outlined publicly his concept of the much-discussed "green belt," requiring the Edgerstone strip for a proposed "circulatory" road around Princeton. "Starting at the northeast with the new Trinity area and going counter clockwise," he explained, "it will approach the Township Park buried behind the Shopping Center, will abut Community Gardens, go by the old sewage field at the Great Road, go through Johnson Park, then follow the bottom land of Stony Brook, and possibly lose the Quaker Meeting House grounds with Battle Park. From this point to the foot of Alexander Street, no attempt has yet been made to work out even an approximate alignment through the more remote lands of the Institute and the University, although there have been preliminary talks with both and informal assurance that they will be held green for a long time to come. Alexander to Harrison is already shown on the map, although its alignment can be re-studied. For 20 years, people have been suggesting a crossing of the Millstone by the lake instead of putting out to U. S. 1, and this is now reaching the imperative stage. Then a widened avenue along the canal to Kingston, and a crossing around the east end of the lake to the point of beginning."

Indicating a tremendous amount of personal endeavor and a rare amount of foresight, Mr. Agle came up with a number of vitally important points during his 35-minute discourse. Among them:

- "It is now a matter of only a very few years before we find ourselves completely built up on all sides, in the center of a band of urbanization stretching at least from New Haven to Washington, and probably much farther."

- "The Yale game brings 10,000 automobiles to Princeton one afternoon every other year. The natural development of our area will bring the local traffic of two Yale games in addition to the traffic we now have, not one afternoon every two years, but 365 days of every year."

- "As matters now stand, there is no safe or attractive alternative to the use of Nassau Street—Continued on Page 4

● "Clearly the Township never should spend a nickel on its share of the belt either as a park or with the incorporation of a minor traffic strip without a new legislative act making it possible for the Borough to pick up part of the cost."

Strong Reasons Cited. In accepting the land-gifts, the Committee stressed that it likes the stipulations of the gifts because they leave the door open for a variety of action in the future—a road, if necessary, and a park, if not. The Committee members also endorsed Mr. Agle's belief that, "in any event, if the road through Edgerstone Linking Stockton Street with Roersdale Road) should not be considered until after Route 206A is built (the by-pass connecting Somerville and Trenton traffic via Kingston.)"

BOROUGH COUNCIL

"New Course Record." Mayor and Council in the space of two end one-half hours created some kind of record Tuesday evening by passing on final reading a half-dozen ordinances, all of which are directed at stop-gap and long-range solutions of the problems created by Princeton's ever-mounting traffic volume. Two were concerned with the yet-to-be-built "through street" between John Street and Bayard Lane—one formally christening it "Avalon Place," in accordance with YM-YW suggestions and the fact approval of the Princeton Historical Society, and the other limiting the weight of vehicles ordinarily using the street (when it is completed).

Four others pertain to parking in its various forms: (1) the preliminary lease on the Wilher-spoon-Wiggins Street lot, insuring 31 new places by early summer in a major acquisition from Public Service that will eventually run into a six-figure purchase price; (2) uniform rates for parking in Borough-controlled yards; (3) the purchase of 225 new meters; and (4) parking restrictions, largely on residential streets in the Borough's western end.

Only in connection with parking regulations was there anything resembling a public discussion. In accordance with the recommendations of the Parking Committee, the two-hour limit originally proposed for Hodge Road has been discarded in favor of unlimited all-day parking for the immediate future.

Among the major developments of the evening were the following:

● Unanimous and enthusiastic passage of a resolution urging State authorities to assemble more reliable engineering data and to undertake a more thorough-going area study (roads, bridges, etc.) before proceeding with the controversial 1,500-acre Stony Brook Reservoir.

● Announcement by Mayor Sturges that the 53-car Trinity-Mercer Street parking lot is about ready for use and represents an "outstanding effort" on the part of the Borough Engineering Department.

● Appointment of Charles R. Erdman, Jr., to a six-year term on the Planning Board and also the appointment, following com-

"A Rose Is/Was A Rose..."

Sprawling Rose Cottage, located just within "Borough Grounds" between Borough Hall and Trinity Church and known to Princetonians as early as 1803 as the home of the daughter of Richard Stockton, a Signer of the Declaration of Independence, bounced back into the news at Tuesday evening's session of Mayor and Council.

The fate of the clipboard structure hangs in the balance—somewhere between the Trustees of the Swann Estate, the admirer of the buildings and property bequeathed "to the people of Princeton" by Mrs. Josephine Thomson Swann, and the Mayor and Council, who have no legal voice in handling the estate.

The former, George Knaefer and David R. Winans, maintain that the cottage, once famous for its rose gardens, is structurally unsound and should be leveled at once. Mayor and Council have none of the facts, but agreed to transmit to the Trustees the case made by adherents of the Princeton Co-operative Nursery School.

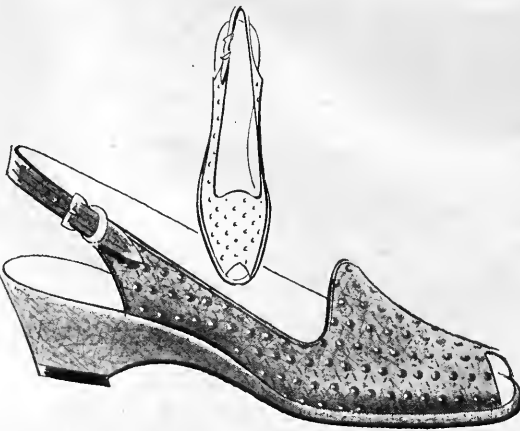

The vocal supporters of Rose Cottage, led by Mr. and Mrs. Simeon Hytner, 28 Hibben Road, and Mrs. Herbert J. Hall, 12 Maple Street, agreed to provide the borough with complete documentation of their case for the preservation of the building. The Junior Chamber of Commerce, through Leonard F. Newton, 44 Stanworth Lane, promised manpower for reconstruction purposes.

Mayor Sturges said: "I don't say we can—I don't say we can't."

"CALERO, THE CAT": Calero La Gata, who introduced the Cha-Cha-Cha to her native Havana, is one of the stars of Jean-Leon Destine's "Carib Creole Carnival" at McCarter Theatre this Thursday through Saturday.

News Of The THEATRES

MCCARTER THEATRE

This Is The End! Princeton University's Reunion weekend, an American phenomenon some times credited with starting all others of the kind, will be joined this year by a festival show which now bids fair to end all others of its kind. The highly successful calypso-voodoo show of Haiti's international star, Jean-Léon Destine, which lured an SRO audience and actually turned away hundreds of theatergoers at McCarter Theatre in April, will return this Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings, expanded into a big "Carib Creole Carnival."

In the last weeks of rehearsal and planning, features have been added so fast that the show, staged by McCarter's managing director, Richard Pleasant, who is celebrating his 25th Reunion, promises to set an all-time high in Caribbean highjinks and, at the same time, to give the first all-inclusive picture of Pan-Caribbean music, song and dance, ranging from the chilling and dramatic voodoo of Haiti all the way to the Cuban Cha-Cha-Cha. And, since the theatre is a public service of the University, the new performances will give the general public a second chance at the hit show, scheduled to tour Japan this summer and the United States next winter.

A new song, rapidly growing into a production number, has been written for the occasion by Burton Crane (Princeton '22) and Jane Douglass White. Based on the comedy interlude between the "Mama" drum and the "Pape" drum, which was one of the hits of the original Destine offering, it is called "Mama and Pape" and is said to be a direct descendant in the line that comes down from "Run and Coca Cola."

Mr. Pleasant, noting that tickers are still available for all three 8:30 performances (through PR 1-5315, the McCarter box office), said staging of the carnival will offer an innovation—the Carter Morningstar method of projection, not yet seen on Broadway, which lends more of the color and feeling of the carnival scenes in the exotic islands than any scenery can give. And, just to make the festa as happy as it is "hot," there will be a special cooling system installed for the three June evenings.

UNIVERSITY PLAYERS

Change in Plans. Morton Goode, University Players' producer, announced this week that there has been a change in original plans for the summer season at Murray Theatre. Because of difficulties in securing rights to the original movie script, the Players will be unable to do the musical version of "Merton of the Movies," by Charles Schultz, as they had intended. Another play will be substituted, and a definite schedule of plays will be determined by week's end.

The Players' first show, "Streetcar Named Desire," by Tennessee Williams, opens June 28. The Players' resident company will arrive in Princeton about a week ahead to rehearse for the initial production of the eight-play season. Returning to Princeton with the 1957 company will be several actors and actresses familiar to Murray Theatre audiences for previous appearances with the University Players.

News Of The Theatres

p.m. this Thursday, Friday and Saturday in Murray Theatre, the "incend" to prove that Shakespeare's "King Lear" can be acted." The play, with its storm scenes on a heath, its battles and its eye-gouging, has caused trouble to every producer. The realistic 19th-century theater often returned the verdict "unactable," and, in a sense, that verdict was correct. Any attempt at realism destroys the great imaginative effects of the play.

The English department believes it has found a solution—the dramatic reading. It tried this approach with "Lear" in April, succeeding much as Charles Laughton succeeded with "such excellent" as "Don Juan in Hell" and "John Brown's Body," and now—especially for returning readers—it is going to repeat the success. The public is invited to attend without charge.

Well-known to Princeton audiences are director Alan S. Downer and actresses Carolea Sherwood and Kathy Kelly. Other members of the cast are Jim Kraft, Henry Stackpole, Maurice Cain, Martha Whitman, Sherman Newman, Thomas Roche, John Meagher, Joseph Kromer, Barry Mazur, McGuire Dulcine, Frank Newman and Hamilton Smith.

THE PLAYHOUSE

Desk Set (June 13-18), making the headlines fatal transition from Broadway to Hollywood without losing a bit of its hilarity (and perhaps gaining some), gives the Playhouse its second straight worthwhile comedy, thanks largely to the sure-fire combination of Spencer Tracy and Katharine Hepburn. Tracy plays the part of a "mother engineer" with an electronic-brain device he has been assigned to install in the reference department of a television network, happily handled by Miss Hepburn.

Happily, that is, until she and her co-workers (Joan Blondell, Dinah Merrill, Sue Randall) sense their replacement by Tracy's Univac-type machine. The resultant developments aren't, but earth-shattering aren't, but they do make good fun and the laughs are generous. It is encouraging to see the Tracy-Hepburn team back in action. And the CinemaScope and Deluxe color support doesn't hurt at all.

Gunfight at the O.K. Corral (June 19-25) is a Technicolor, VistaVisioned tribute to Wyatt Earp (Burt Lancaster) and Doc Holliday (Kirk Douglas), two of the Old West's legendary heroes. It employs all the tricks of a conventional Western—barroom trouble in Dodge City, rustlers, feuding gangs and gamblers everywhere, beautiful women, the great gun battle in Tombstone, Arizona—but its conventionality is minimized by fine acting, strong direction and a factually evocative story. It is probably the most en-

Tickets Going Fast

As "The Pajama Game" neared the end of its second successful week at the Music Circus in Lambertville, with two weeks to go, members of the Princeton Kiwanis Club feared the end of their all-out effort to sell tickets to a particular performance of the great musical. Still remaining in the hands of Kiwanians are tickets at the various price levels for the 8 p.m. show on June 23. Princetonians anxious to see the Kiwanis-sponsored Sunday evening performance may obtain their seats from any member of the 35-man club or at TOWN TOPICS, the Wine & Game Shop, Yeoman's, the YMCA or Center Stationers. All proceeds from the play and the Kiwanis-planned program will be used by the club's community welfare fund to continue its year-round support of worthwhile Princeton projects.

Lead roles in "The Pajama Game," which will play under the Lambertville canopy through June 30, are being handled by Merri Stevens, Jack Goode and Peter Kelly.

aging Western turned out by Hollywood since "High Noon."

Mr. Lancaster, improving with age, plays his lead role with conviction—perhaps the best Earp to ride along the well-worn trails to Tombstone in many years. Mr. Douglas is excellent as the sometime dentist, then smooth-talking gambler, while Rhonda Fleming and Jo Van Fleet do well as the principal female interests and Lyle Bettger, John Ireland and Frank Faylen are effectively nasty as leaders of the lawless element who complete Earp's life wherever he goes. There isn't much new under the bright Technicolor sun in this shoot-'em-up production, but there is something entertaining for everybody and the old, familiar story is beautifully handled. (Lone objection: Frankie Laine intruding too often with his grin rendition of the title tune).

THE GARDEN

The Naked Eye (June 13-15), winner of a number of impressive film awards, gives full treatment to the subject of photography, coming off extremely well at times but rather weakly on the whole. Photographer Louis Clyde Stoumen, who is also a reporter, dramatist and TV play writer, offers such elements as the following: a brief, and now familiar, history of photography as a process (George Eastman, Thomas Edison, et al.); brief and original expositions of photography as narrator and interpreter (the works of photo-journalists Margaret Bourke-White and Alfred Eisenstadt of Life and of Weegee, New York, recorder of mishap, misery and murder; and, lastly but importantly, a study-perceptive and poetic, unique and moving—of Edward Weston, the man and his work, Raymond Massey's effective narration adds the picture a great deal of help.

3 Sinners (June 17-19), one of France's top five grossers the year it was released under the title of "Meurtres," runs the gamut from solid paths to brittle farce, affording the ever-capable Fernandel innumerable opportunities to exploit his versatility. In French with English titles, the film deals with the story of three different people, each a sinner in his own way. Comments from the critics: "Vastly amusing!" "Brilliant dialogue!" "Often biting."

IT'S NEW To Us

QUICK, THE NEEDLE
Just a Drop, Please. If you have any precision machines that must be kept in fine, humming order, you know that many times even a little bit of oil can be too much. Small hobby trains, photographic equipment, electric shavers, clocks, record players—all these small motors take a very small grease job.
To care for them properly, someone has invented a pin-point oiler that works like a hypodermic. It's a transparent cylinder which you fill with household oil, after you've paid 98c to Tiger Auto at 26 Witherspoon.

Two new roof-top carriers are available this year for the vacationing motorist. One is an adjustable carrier that will fit anything from a Porsche to a Chrysler station wagon.
Another is a carrier designed especially for station wagons. Tiger has a large selection of carriers, both rail and box types, with the box ones divided into solids and slot bottoms.

Now there's room inside your car for a little table (collapsible) that hooks over the back of the front seat and gives the children a place for coloring Mickey Mouse comics and playing draw poker. It's $3.19.

A new fender skirt, the Golden '57, has stainless steel molding and can be installed without any drilling. It comes with a prime coat and you paint it the color of your car. Costs $28.95 and for a little more, Tiger will order you one in gold.

After you get there—wherever you're going—or even if you stay home and mow the lawn, you'll find the summer richer, happier and more fruitful if you buy a bilge pump ($3.45). With this little pump, you can of course, pump bilge. You can also use it when you want to fill a power mower with gasoline, siphon off the melted ice from a cooler, or drain all the water out of the pipes in your summer cottage before you look up for winter. The pump will drain a stopped up sink and can be used to prime any motor-driven pump.

The See-Sled is a plastic inflatable raft with a little window at the head that offers a fine view of the marine life under your chin. Comes in large and small sizes. New wading pools, three sizes, are round and glistening, like mother of pearl.

New Way to Loaf. At the shoe store of Thomas Brophy you will now find a loafer made by two gentlemen named Johnston and Murphy, although how Johnston got into that act nobody seems to know. Brophy, at 78 Nassau, has never carried Messrs. Johnston and Murphy before, so this is your first chance to see the handsome mahogany loafer. Clark, the Arab of the boat

Just a Little Hole

In addition to selling wading pools, weight-lifters and hub caps, Tiger Auto does a brisk trade in the repair of bicycles.
The other day when we were in the store, a small cyclist came in wearing sneakers and an express of anxiety. He was wheeling a 20-inch bike whose rear tire was very tired. Mr. Mandell looked over the bike and the owner squatted on his dungarees near the affected wheel and waited to hear the worst.
Mr. Mandell said he thought the tire looked pretty flat. "It can't be too bad though, can it?" the owner asked hopefully. "It's only flat on the bottom."

world, has a sleek new two-eyelet shoe called Desert Kohn that we described to you not long ago. It has been available only in antiquated ice-cell, which is a nice kind of motley brown. Now you may have the Kahn in black llama calf, which is just about as effete as you can get, or in dark olive green Continental suede.

Bare Minimum. Bras this summer have neither straps nor back, although you can have both if you're bound to be stuffy. Ball-ni has a backless one that looks quite Victorian, as a matter of fact. It has a snug princess line with garters, and it's cut low, to the very waist itself. Costs $12.50 at Edith's Corset Shop, 10 Chambers.
A bra with straps has a long line in front and is cut to the waist in back. The fabric is lace. Other bras for summer include a strapless one by Warner that is —Continued on Page 8 supposed to be the first strapless that won't slip. A broad band of perforated Laster across the back assures this. It's a boned bra with front hooks and it costs $6.50.

Summer girdles begin with one designed for heavier figures, up to size 44. Then there's a cotton mesh-lace garment with front boning ($10), and a cool cotton lace panty girdle by Simone. A girdle called "Snowflake" has a side-hook arrangement, cotton mesh fabric to let the breezes in, and a cool price tag, too—$6.95.

"Sugar White" is the color for diaphanous cotton slips. Try one with lace inserts or a half slip that has a side slit handed with two-inch lace. A similar sheath half slip has a one-inch band of serollwork around the slit.

A white baby-doll night gown has bands of lace sewn over the fabric, lace scallops at the lower edge and plant blue bows for shoulder straps. Another baby-doll has a snug top like a lace-handled canisole. Minute "tucks alternate with the lace and there are broad lace-topped straps. Comes in grace pink and crystal blue.

One of the long summer gowns at Edith's has a drawstring to accent its Empire waist. There is a U neck, puffed sleeves and a trim of Belgian lace. In yellow or blue. Permanent pleats go down the front of another gown. There are blue velvet bands, one-quarter inch wide, at the Empire waist and lace bands around the armhole. This gown is distinguished by a little shirt collar of lace.

The Wind-Up. Everything plays music at the Flower Basket this June. A shipment of musical pieces from Germany and Switzerland has come to 136 Nassau and you can have anything from "Ten for Two" in "Silent Night," "Ten for Two" quite naturally comes out of a teapot, six cup size. Floral design in autumn colors. "I Went to Your Wedding" emerges from a powder box, and "Sirsust" from a table cigarette lighter.

Compact, key rings and pocket lighters all have little music boxes inside that stop playing when you put the lighter on the table or shut the compact. A charm bracelet in gold dangles the "Moulin Rouge" theme from its wrist.

A Swiss shawl turns out to be a bank which plays "Three Coins in a Fountain," but only when you put a penny in. (Let of music for that penny, too.) There's a madonna which plays "Ave Maria," and a Japanese Geisha with some kind of samisen music. This Geisha is about 16 inches tall with a flowing and brilliant cloth kimono. Quite a babe.

"Silent Night" comes from a crane. If you want to plan that far ahead. A pottery pinch bottle decenter with floral designs on a cream colored ground plays, too, but we didn't listen to this one. A clear plastic atomizer with a rose inside plays "Let Me Call You Sweetheart."

We looked at all these things in a great hurry and all of them were playing at once, so we may have mixed up a tune here and there. The title of the song is on every box, however, so you needn't be mixed up when you buy.

DELYING TACTICS GAIN

Reservoir Action Slowed. The Citizens Committee for a Sound Water Plan and the Stony Brook-Killbuck Watersheds Association have gained ground in their contention that the plan for reservoirs at Stony Brook and Spruce Run need further study. And the opposition to the Smith committee report is prepared to offer alternative suggestions at this Thursday's continuation of public hearings on the two bills before the New Jersey Legislature in Trenton.

Motolin Crooks, executive director of the Watersheds Association, reported that "real ammunition" will be unleashed and said it would consist of "positive proposals for compromise alternatives." The indication was the chief proposals would be a more detailed presentation of the joint New Jersey-Pennsylvania Delaware River water and flood control plan backed in a statement committee.

Mr. Crooks said that "although he is handicapped by not understanding politicians' considerations" it appears to him the Smith committee "will not have the smooth sailing it anticipated" when it suggested the $140,000 Spruce Run-Stony Brooks plan. "On the other hand," he added, "we won't be satisfied unless our proposals are given serious consideration. The association is only eight years old, but we have devoted our attention to this particular area and our studies have caused us to form opinions."

The watershed association director reported its alternative proposal "might be put into effect almost as fast" as the Smith plan that would build the Spruce Run

Late Developments

At midweek, the debate over construction of a major reservoir in northwest Princeton was colored by two new developments: approval of the program attributed to Governor Meyner and the possibility that the Pretty Brook Tennis Club might be among the properties inundated.

Governor Meyner was quoted as finding the reservoir "feasible" on a basis of preliminary surveys, adding "I've never seen anything wrong with attempting to create a climate favorable to industry in the state." Mayor George Board of Freeholders, however, has gone on record against the project, attacking the "unnecessary haste" on the part of its backers.

Stockholders of Pretty Brook Tennis Club have been notified that approval of the plan by the Legislature may result in submerging the club's property. This is being advanced as an alternative site for the original proposal, and would affect more holdings downstream from the area first designated.

dem presumably by 1960 and the Stony Brook dam by 1962. "Our suggestion will have the advantage of being eligible for federal flood and disaster funds already appropriated," Mr. Crooks added.

Commissioner Joseph E. McLean testified at last Thursday's hearing that the Water Resources Advisory (Smith) Committee "does not have all the data we need. As a matter of common sense and as a matter of fairness and responsibility to everyone concerned under no circumstances would I be willing to proceed with the purchase of land until more detailed facts and figures have been compiled."

Commissioner McLean named the committee, which is headed by George F. Smith, president of Johnson & Johnson, New Brunswick. A local member of the committee, John C. Williams, issued a statement this week saying he believed the committee's work was carried out in an unbiased manner and announcing he would retire from further official support of the proposal since "the responsibility for the selection of a program rests with the legislature which represents Princeton and all other New Jersey communities."

Dr. Harold W. Dodds, president of Princeton University, joined those who favor extensive study of the Smith plan before it is acted upon by the legislature. In a statement read into the record of the hearing, Dr. Dodds stated: "Princeton University (which is a

Reintroducing Into Dollars

After recording two smashing financial successes despite steady rain for the benefit of Princeton Hospital, members of the Women's Auxiliary aren't quite sure whether they could do better if the sun shone. Last year's clouds had a very living worth some $11,000; this year's tally is incomplete at the moment, but is figured to be "well in excess of last year's net."

Having done so well despite the handicap normally attributed to steady rain for an outdoor event, the Fete's beneficiaries give signs of becoming superstitious about the weather. "It could be," one of them mused, "that if it were a glorious warm June day, everyone would head for the golf course or the ocean and leave us very much alone."

Topics Of The Town

property owner in the Stony Brook reservoir) requests the State of New Jersey to obtain fuller information as to true land values in the affected area, a more precise contour map of the floodplains, accurate data on tax rates levied to the affected municipalities. . .

He also requested "reasonable estimates of the cost of relocating municipal and community roads, and a degree of coordination between the fundamental planning needs of Mercer County including land use, housing, highways, local industrial expansion and the future water needs of the area."

Alfred L. Test, chairman of the citizens committee, said on the eve of the hearings, which open at 10:30 a. m. in the State House, that "it is anticipated the hearings will continue for at least an entire session. Citizens who have views on the various proposals are urged to attend all sessions of the hearing."

Senator Wayne Dumont, chairman of the hearing, indicated a third session is expected on Thursday, June 20, thereby precluding action on the bills before the legislative recess June 17. He considered the possibility of a special summer "water session" of the legislature to act on the two bills, which would authorize the Smith plan.

HOSPITAL BENEFITTED

Rain Falls to Dampen Fete. For the second year in a row, the Princeton Hospital Fete was plagued by rain but activities were conducted according to schedule. Mrs. George Chert, Jr., and Mrs. Marshal M. H. Dana, co-chairmen, report that extra tents enabled the throngs to move under cover to avoid the inclement weather.

The auction sale attracted most of the spectators and activities proceeded at a rapid pace for ten hours. Thomas James, son of Dr. and Mrs. J. Thomas James of 45 Vandewater Avenue, bid successfully for the cream-colored convertible, paying $360 for the 1951 model.

Mrs. Hamilton Cottier was awarded first prize for best adorning a painting with flowers. Mrs. Cottier's arrangement complimented a portrait of Mrs. Bruce Gould.

Other first prize winners were Mrs. Frederick Whitfield, green and white plant materials; Mrs. Moore Gates, flowers in a stemmed container; Mrs. Xavier von Erberg, miniature garden; Mrs. David McAlpin, flower basket arrangement; and Mrs. L. Fern Steffler, shadow box.

Blue stars for first place in various horticulture classes were presented to Mrs. Samuel W. Lambert, Jr., Mrs. Clarence Johnson, G. A. Wilmerding, Mrs. Philip Yeatman, Mrs. Raymond Fudy, Mrs. Richard Lindner, Mrs. H. C. Sturhan, Mrs. Charles Rosenblum, Miss Margaretta Coenboven, Mrs. von Erberg, Mrs. Rene Leon, Samuel Hamill, Mrs. Lucius Wilmerding, Mrs. R. Kenneth Fairman, Mrs. Catherine Schick, Dr. Samuel W. Lambert, Jr., Mrs. Donald Griffin, Mrs. Cottier and Mrs. Gerald Lambert.

Judges for the show were Mrs. McKim Steele, Mrs. Robert C. Green, James S. Clark and Dennis Doornkamp.

NEW JERSEY BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY

DENIZENS OF THE DOGOUT: Prior to a recent New York Yankee home game, Town Topics invaded the Bomber dugout to ask Manager Casey Stengel to comment on Babe Ruth's 30-year-old home run king. Appropriately, Mickey Mantle, the Yankee's current home run king, was on hand to hear his manager's thoughts on the timely subject, and also to greet interviewer Asa Bushnell, managing editor of Town Topics, and son Larry Bushnell, 11, who extolled the virtues of Princeton's Midlet League. For a pertinent portion of Mr. Stengel's response (which naturally was too long to present in its entirety) see below. (United Press Photo) sixth grader: I would rather see it stay in Ruth's hands. He was a great home run hitter—the greatest of all. I think Mantle and Williams have come the closest to breaking it, but they don't seem to have as much power or ability. I don't think it will be broken for some time.

Mrs. Estelle D. Stanfield, 291 Witherspoon Street: Yes, I do, and I think it will be broken too. That's because we have so many good players these days—ones who can outdo the players of the past. Look how batting averages today are better than in other years. I think it will be broken soon.

William J. Clarke, 76 Nassau Street, former catcher for the Baltimore Orioles and Princeton baseball coach. Sure I'd like to see it broken—that's what records are for. Ruth established himself as a great hitter, but there's no reason why that figure of 60 shouldn't be bettered. However, there are only two players in the game today good enough to do it—Mickey Mantle or Willie Mays.

Question of the Week

Question: Babe Ruth's record of 60 home runs in one season has stood for exactly 30 years. Would you like to see it broken?

Location: Around Town.

Mrs. Pepper Constable, Rose-dale Road, national Women's Squash Racquet champion: No. And further, I don't see how it can be broken. The person right now most likely to come closest is Mickey Mantle, but I don't think he will make it. Players today seem to have so many complaints and injuries they are not as rugged as the old time ball players. Look at Mantle's sore leg last year. I really don't think it is going to be broken for a long time.

Casey Stengel, Yankee Stadium, major league baseball manager: Well, that's a tough one that deserves more time to consider than I've got right now. I can tell you I don't mind seeing the record broken, but I'm not sure it's going to be for a long time. So many different elements are involved—the distance to the various walls in different parks, the height of the walls, the changing quality of the balls, the calibre of the league's pitchers and so forth. Mickey (Mantle) really had a fine opportunity to break the record last year, but he slowed down a bit at the end. Now, the pitchers aren't giving him good balls to hit—he's walking an awful lot—so I doubt if he'll threaten the mark again until they let up a bit. See? It's a tough one to figure.

Harry Zall, 31 Jefferson Road, baseball coach at Princeton High School: Records are made to be broken. Sentimental attachment has nothing to do with them. I feel that Mantle probably will do it—maybe not this year, but sometime soon. He's the only bright spot on the horizon at the present time. Ted Williams is over his prime, I think, so it would be surprising if he does it this season. I think it will be broken, however, and I am all for it.

A Matter of Sentiment

Just 30 years ago, the great Babe Ruth endeared himself to baseball fans everywhere by hitting 60 home runs in one season. Since 1927 his record has stood as the goal for baseball players from the sand lots to the big leagues.

Like the four-minute mile before Roger Bannister's run two years ago, the golden number of 60 home runs has been considered the unattainable goal of the striving batsman. With the conquering of the four-minute mile, however, all the long-standing "unattainable" goals have come under close scrutiny by fans and athletes alike.

In an attempt to assess the current attitude towards Babe Ruth's record, Town Topics this week queried baseball fans on the matter. For their varying opinions, see this page.

Mrs. William H. Snow, 10 Russell Road, housewife: If someone can break that record, then I think it would be fine. I have no sentimental attachment to it. As a matter of fact, I was hoping Mickey Mantle could have done it last year.

Mrs. J. R. Poleson, 34 Wilson Road, housewife: No I wouldn't but I really don't have any good reasons for feeling that way. I just hope Ruth's record isn't broken. I don't think anyone in modern baseball can break it, either. There just isn't anyone today who can be compared with Babe Ruth.

MAGNA CUM LAUDE

Outstanding Career Climaxed. When Princeton University confers baccalaureate degrees upon the 600 members of the Class of 1957 on Tuesday, the ceremony will be a fitting climax for Michael MacCracken Stewart of 26 Westcott Road. An outstanding football end who was awarded the Poe Cup for his sportsmanship on the gridiron, a Rhodes-Scholar-elect and Pyne Prize honoree, he is one of the outstanding men of '57.

Quiet, with an easy friendliness, Mike Stewart fits more plausibly into his role of philosophy major in the university's accelerated Special Program in the Humanities than that of a football veteran. In size only does the six-foot, three-inch, 185-pounder suggest athletic prowess.

Academically, he has coupled a "first-group" rating over his four years, culminating in the attainment of High Honors in the Department of Philosophy. His senior thesis concerned "Plato's Early Ethics."

Along with this record, however, he also participated in an impressive array of extra-curricular activities. Besides his gridiron showing which netted him three varsity letters, Mike served his senior year as president of the Cup and Gown Club and the Westminster Foundation (Presbyterian), vice president of his class and a Deacon of the University Chapel.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Stewart, Mike came to Princeton from the Hotchkiss School in Lakeville, Conn. His senior year, at Hotchkiss, however, was spent at Trinity College in Scotland, a "public" school he attended under the English Speaking Union Exchange Program.

Mike had opportunity to enter both Harvard and Princeton after Hopkins (His father, president of the De Laval Steam Turbine Company of Trenton, is a Cornell alumnus), but he picked Princeton despite its nearness to his home. "After being away from home at school for six years, it was going to get sick again," he admits.

Football Most Interesting. At Princeton Mike quickly discovered that "football took more of my interest than anything else, except possibly my thesis senior year." A member of the varsity starting eleven from mid-season in his sophomore year, he feels now he "learned more than was valuable on the football field than anywhere else."

"In football you don't hold anything back. Because of this I felt as if I were really giving something of myself in the process," he adds. And as a result he proved to be one of Coach Charlie Caldwell's outstanding left ends and leading sprinters. At the annual football banquet this year he received the John F. Poe Cup for sportsmanship in football play.

Regretting only that "in three years of play at end I never caught a touchdown pass," Mike considers the outstanding experience of his colorful gridiron career "the first play I ever worked right." In the closing minutes of the Colgate game sophomore year with the score tied 6-6, the unbeaten visitors had marched from their own goal line to Princeton's. From the Tiger two, back Guy Martin attempted to turn Stewart at left end for the score. Mike spilled him and recovered the resulting fumble to preserve the tie.

A regular member of the Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps during his four years at Princeton, he will receive his commission as ensign in the regular Navy on Monday. He will then spend three years service with the Navy Air Corps.

With three years of Navy duty and two as an Oxford Rhodes Scholar, Mike now finds his long-range plans "hard to determine. I imagine I'll go into teaching or law, but I don't really know. Since I would like to return to academic life, teaching is currently looming larger and larger; but I'll just have to wait and see."

Looking back on his college career, Mike feels that one of the outstanding characteristics of Princeton is that "there is so much more available here than any one can take advantage of. This wide variety of interest both in activities and people is the most valuable thing Princeton has to offer, I feel."

Looking back with him over his career, the members of the Princeton faculty decided this winter that Mike Stewart has made a valuable contribution of his own. Next week Mike will be graduated as this year's recipient of the Moses Taylor Pyne Prize, the highest general distinction Princeton can confer upon an undergraduate.

Birth List. A total of 12 births to Princeton area residents were announced last week at Princeton Hospital. Five were boys and seven were girls.

Sons were born to: Mr. and Mrs. George Adriance, 30 Linden Lane; Mr. and Mrs. John R. Currier, Jr., 412-A Devereux Avenue; Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Clark, 100 Stockton Street; Mr. and Mrs. Harley Smith, 36 Edgemere Avenue, Plainsboro; and Mr. and Mrs. Gerhard Hochschild, 7 Evelyn Place.

LOOF Marks 75th Anniversary. Nassau Lodge 106, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, is celebrating its 75th anniversary as one of the community's oldest fraternal organizations. In honor of the occasion, the lodge held a banquet at the Old High Inn.

Ernest F. Drake, treasurer for 49 years, received a citation for faithful service along with David S. Hume, senior trustee for 22 years, and Everett E. Satterthwaite, a trustee of 21 years. The Grand Master of New Jersey, I.W. Leib of Patterson, attended the session and John Stewart of Princeton served as toastmaster.

Nassau Lodge actually received a charter in 1842, 115 years ago, but this was surrendered in 1870. Twelve years later, however, the present lodge was reorganized and has operated continuously since.

Canteen Plans Summer Dances. The Princeton Canteen will hold an extra dance for ticket holders Saturday at the Nassau Street School.

Members are urged to retain their orange tickets during the summer months because the Canteen Council has arranged for several dances before resuming full activities next fall.

YMCA Plans Father-Son Outing. Midget League Baseball awards will be presented to the series champions at the Y.M.C.A.'s annual father-son outing scheduled for Saturday, June 22, at Marquand Park. Other highlights include a father-son baseball game, relays and rope pull.

Hot dogs, soft drinks and ice cream will be among the refreshments. Tickets are available at 75c at Y.M.C.A. offices, 120 John Street and 102 Witherspoon Street.

Plainsboro is "De-Weed" Pond. Members of the Plainsboro Lions Club, assisted by community residents, will begin a two-step process of removing weeds from a nearby 30-acre pond Saturday. Using a technique followed by the Cranbury Lions two years ago when they cleared the stagnant waters of Brainard Lake, the Plainsboro group will employ chemicals to make the lake fit for swimming and fishing.

Robert Hudkins, associate to the director of the Fisheries Biological Laboratories of the New Jersey Fish and Game Commission, will lend assistance to the project. Mr. Hudkins also advised the Cranbury group then it put its underwater weed control program to work.

The Lions will complete operations on the following Saturday, June 22. Plainsboro Township will furnish the chemicals while the Lions, under the leadership of Chester Steen, will supply the man power.

Y.M.C.A. Day Camp to Open. The Y.M.C.A. Day Camp is planning to offer swimming instruction at all levels this summer. Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Deyo and Mr. and Mrs. George Bowers have donated use of their swimming pool for the morning swim sessions.

As a result of the program, youngsters will receive YMCA classifications of minnow, fish, flying fish and shark. Registration is still open. Additional information may be received from Ralph E. Papa at 120 John Street (1-3630).

Paper Drive Date Changed. Because of Princeton University reunion activities this weekend, the date for the American Legion Post 76 paper drive has been moved back to Sunday, June 23. The July and August drives will again be suspended, but a collection will be made on Sunday, September 8. Norman Fowler, chairman, has expressed his thanks to those who have aided and contributed.

Legion Reads July 4 Program. American Legion Post 76 has selected a committee to prepare its Fourth of July celebration at Palmer Stadium. Ellwood Blydenburgh, William Birch and Nathaniel McKee are co-chairmen.

Other committee members are L. Russell Riker, honorary chairman; Harold M. Hinkson and Mr. McKee, tickets; Elmer Greed and Fred Klink, finance; D. Don Richards and Henry Frank, entertainment and publicity; Marino Ferrara, Henry Robertello, Andrew O'Hara and Thomas Lynch, refreshments; Samuel G. Davison, lighting; Norman Fowler and Walter Mack, gates and grounds; and William Haupt, lumber.

Also H. M. Hinkson, Jr., and Robert Buchanan, color guard; George Cahill, fire department and first aid; Robert Schmidt and Eric Jungburg, water, and Peter McCrohan and Norman Servis, police.

Re: University Housing.

To the Editor of TOWN TOPICS:

On page 4 of your issue for June 6, a reference was made to "The University's degrading of housing project." Possibly your adjective was hastily chosen, but I, as a resident of the project, consider it insulting as well as unsupported by fact. No one would pretend that the Harrison Street Veterans' Project is a palace, but neither is it a slum, and in terms of its social utility not only to Princeton but also to the country at large its importance should not be underestimated.

RALPH A. TANAN

214-C Halsey Street

Editor's Note: Neither insult nor "slum" designation was intended. The adjective was used primarily in recognition of the fact that the GI housing project was built a decade ago with materials that were planned to last a maximum of five years. Federal legislation requiring the project to be demolished at the end of that time was rescinded but does not alter the fact that a steadily-mounting replacement problem exists in this area of 252 family dwelling units.

Suggests Negro Subdivision.

To the Editor of TOWN TOPICS:

With so much discussion about "integration" in housing, I would like to ask, "Don't the colored people like the colored people? Don't they want to be neighbors any more? Have we only had colored sections, Italian sections, Hungarian sections by force, or could it also be that people who speak the same tongue, like to do things in the same way, have the same tastes and ideas, really enjoy being neighbors and doing things together?"

Certainly we all would like nice homes, especially if we could afford to buy one, but do we have to mix everybody all up to prove we aren't discriminating? Can't we live with the people we feel most at home with, the people with whom we have something in common? We're all supposed to be equal in America, but that doesn't mean we all have to look alike, live alike and think alike. Why doesn't one of Princeton's builders develop one of his nicest locations and be discriminating enough to sell only to the colored people? If they can afford nice homes, they should have them, and they shouldn't have to leave the people they want for neighbors, to find them.

Respect the Law!

To the Editor of TOWN TOPICS:

In your issue of June 2-8, you reported that several persons were fined for disregarding police officers' signals in the direct line of their duty. That was true, and fines should be imposed on any such person or persons who do not have respect for the law and its officers who carry on that duty.

There is always a lot of criticism from outsiders who think they know how to handle the situation better than a qualified person at a fire. If anyone owns a house or building approaches a police-fire officer in connection with getting important papers from a fire in which he or she is directly responsible, that officer on duty will do everything to help him and safely see that he or she is not hurt in doing so.

When a fire breaks out and the general alarm goes in, the fire department police have complete charge and have the say as to who goes in and out of fire lines. The Princeton fire police, under the supervision of the fire department, are composed of men who are trained for fire police work. Many of the men are members of the Borough police department who are graduate police officers and know their business.

Citizens who have lived in Princeton any length of time should recognize policemen and fire police from seeing them on the streets as well as at fires. Any suggestions to improve the fire department should be presented to the fire commissioner at a regular Borough Council meeting.

END OF DROUGHT?

Tigers Due to Beat Yale. It has been exactly five years since a Princeton reunion crowd has seen Princeton beat Yale in baseball. Rain has twice played a part in this sequence of events: the Orange and Black won in 1953 but on Tuesday after graduation, in a contest postponed by the Saturday downpour.

The Ells then hammered out a 13-1 triumph in 1954, the game in '55 was completely washed out and last year's decision went to the Blue, 6-1. There is reason to believe, however, that this trend may be reversed Saturday when some 8,000 foregather at University Field for one of college baseball's most colorful occasions. (Game time is approximately 3 o'clock).

Herm Belz Is Good. Best reason for optimism over Princeton's chances is the pitching of sophomore Herman Belz, who has gone 19 innings against Yale this season without defeat. A 4-1, 10-inning he was the best he could do at New Haven last month, the weak-hitting Tigers failing to get him a run in the last six rounds. Last Saturday, however, Belz took even more complete charge. With two out in the last of the ninth, he had a one-hit shutout going and for better than five innings had pitched a perfect game before an error in the sixth put a runner aboard.

With one batter to go, Herm lost his touch, walked three men in a row and gave in a one-run single before Ed Seaman came on to fan the last man. But the big right-hander has now tossed 15 scoreless innings against the Blue and chances are that if his teammates give him as many as four runs again, he'll win another.

Brother Carl, who has pushed his average above the .300 mark after a mid-season slump, has been hitting with authority and is a tremendous asset on defense at first base. The rest of the team is playing somewhat staidly ball.

PHS FORTUNES IN THEIR HANDS: These three Princeton High Juniors—(left to right) Lou Rieger, Bryce Chase and Bob MacNamee—were chosen this past week by their teammates to serve as captains of the school's track and baseball teams in 1958. Rieger, a weights performer who has tossed the shot 42 feet and the discus 128 feet, and MacNamee, a miler who has bettered the five-minute mark, will lead the Little Tiger track forces together. Chase, a left fielder with "an average I'd like to forget," will head the veteran-led PHS nine. All three athletes have high hopes for their varsity squads as well as their personal achievements next season.

and a few timely blows combined with an absence of damaging errors should be all the assistance Herm needs Saturday.

It was a scoreless ball game at New Haven until the top of the seventh, when Dick Edle and the Belz twins all hit safely. Yale contributed a costly infield error and pitcher Ray Carben added a walk with the bases filled. That made him 3-0 for the Tigers, and they added another run in the eighth as they collected seven hits and took advantage of four Yale errors.

The victory raised the Tigers' record to 11-10-1 for the year. They have now won four of their last five, and in the four victories have limited the opposition to a total of six runs.

ELEVEN STRAIGHT

Pirates Win Monday, 5-3. After completing their regular season with their tenth straight victory, the Plainboro Pirates took a big step toward winning the Midgut Baseball League World Series on Monday by trimming the Orioles, 5-3. The contest was played on Brookview Field, with the second scheduled for Wednesday (too late for inclusion here) and a third set for Friday at 6:15 if necessary.

Henry Schmidt was the winning pitcher, besting Chalmers Brumbaugh despite a home run by the latter. The Pirates picked up one in the top of the first and added clusters of two in the third and fifth. The losers broke into the scoring with a pair in the fourth, while Brumbaugh's homer came with the bases empty in the last of the seventh.

Golfers in the News

Three Princetonians participated in the U.S. Senior Golf Association championship at Rye, N.Y., last weekend, while two others (alumni) reached the quarterfinals of the French international amateur near Paris.

James Ackerman had a 36-hole total of 182 in Class D (60 to 64 years), shooting his best golf on the first nine holes he played. He earned a one-under-par 45 despite a 6 on the ninth hole. John Grover shot 75 and 64 for 139, 16 handicap for a net of 153 putting him nine strokes below the leader in Class E (65-69 years). In another section of the same class, W. H. Jackson tied for first with 81 and 77 for 158 and a net of 144.

In France, Dick Nash '51 and Jack Houdry '49 gave a Princeton touch to that country's biggest tournament before bowing out in the semi-finals. Houdry, incidentally is joint holder of the Springfield amateur record with Bill Ragland '32, each of them having a scizzing 65 over the par 72 course to his credit.

Last week, as the loop's regular season came to a close, the Pirates maintained their undefeated National record by edging the second-place Cardinals, 4-3, and the last-place Glants, 3-1-1. The Redlegs moved into a three-way tie for third place with the Braves and Dodgers by beating the Giants, 10-2, and tying the Braves, 9-9, while the Dodgers were surprising the Braves, 10-1, and losing a tough decision to the Cards, 21-7.

In the American League, the Orioles finished their regular campaign in a blaze of glory by removing the Athletics from contention, 4-3, and turning back the fifth-place Yankees, 11-8. The Red Sox shot back into second place by virtue of a 3-3 win over the Indians and a 13-8 triumph over the Athletics, while the Tigers also grabbed a pair of victories, 7-2 against the Yanks and 5-1 against the Indians.

The final standings:

FUTILE FRACAS

After 9 Frames, 11-11 Tie. In a supreme effort to pin defeat No. 1 of the season on Hook & Ladder (4-0), the dachard Hopewell firm's team (3-1) did some justly hitting this past week, only to wind up with an 11-11 deadlock which must be re-played at a later date. Meanwhile, Belle Mead (4-0) used the strong pitching of veteran Bill Bergen to blank Princeton Engine Company No. 1 (1-2) by a 4-0 margin and move into first place in the Firemen's Baseball League with H&L, Princeton Junction (1-3) topped Blawenburg (0-4) in a tussle between the loop's all-losing clubs.

In the odd affair waged by H&L and Hopewell, both nines valuated a dozen hits, the Princeton team accounting for three homers, three doubles and six singles while the visitors were hanging out one home run, five two-baggers and six singles. The big guns for the power-laden H&L entry were Joe Toto, Mike Bocconifuso and Russ Shangle, who whacked the homers, and John Madison and Doug Watson, who—with Toto—registered two safeties in three trips to the plate. Lancaster (0-3) received a bye for the week.

PCD Awards 24 letters. Members of the baseball and tennis teams at Princeton Country Day School were awarded letters Saturday at the school's annual Activities Dinner. A double winner was Webb Harrison (who this week won the cup as PCD's athlete) with letters in both baseball, which he captained, and tennis.

Other letter winners in baseball were Fred Andrew, Bill Applegate, Dickon Baker, Tim Carey, Pony Fraker, Oliver Hamill, Louis Hano, Staffy Keegan, Rob Kuser, George Peterson, John Postley, Stu Robson, Joe Stevens, Charlie Stuart, Hugh Wise and Joe Wright. Tennis awards went to Captain Dick Rotnem, Steve Crawford, Fritz Mock, Bill Morse, Malcolm Muir and Jimmy Shen.

Tennis Turney Opens Monday. Eliminations for the annual community tennis tournaments in boys and girls divisions will get underway Monday morning. Joseph Bachelder, in charge of the Playgrounds Commission, will direct the action.

Categories will be open to boys under 15, junior boys under 18 and junior girls under 18. Entries are still being accepted by John Arscott at Princeton High School or at the Y.M.C.A.

While there is no entry fee, each competitor is expected to supply three new tennis balls. Martha Raubinger, John Chendler and Nick Charney earned trophies in last year's tournament.

Lions Lead Little League. Tied with the First National Bank for first place in the West Windsor Little League—each with 5-3 records—the West Windsor Lions broke the deadlock this past week with a decisive 9-3 verdict. This contest, as all others in the loop, was played on the new Little League field in Princeton Junction.

As the loop's four teams began competition in the second half of the 1957 season, the standings showed the Lions in front with a 6-3 mark, FNB in the runner-up spot with a 5-4 mark and the Penns Neck Community Club and the Princeton Junction Fire Company tied for third with identical 3-5 records.

Indianapolis Winner in Trenton. Sam Hanley's winner of the Memorial Day 500-mile classic at Indianapolis, will bow out of professional racing Sunday, June 23, when he competes at the new Trenton International Speedway. The veteran driver from Alhambra, Cal., who has turned down an offer to race in Italy, will retire after his appearance at Trenton.

The race will mark the opening of the new speedway which is located on the New Jersey State Fair grounds. Sam Nunis, promotional manager, has arranged for Hanley to appear in the inaugural program.

has selected ten girls to serve as temporary nurse's aides during the summer months. They were chosen for their interest in nursing careers.

They will receive 40 hours' instruction each week, working under the direct supervision of graduate nurses. They will also substitute for regular aides on vacation.

The ten girls, ranging in age from 17 to 19, are the Misses Betty Newhouse, Margaret Williams, Judith Ann and Carol Harris of Princeton; Rita Thompson, Carol Ann Bolles and Patricia Darpa of Hightstown; Barbara H. Fatty of Lambertville; Tina Strode of Plainsboro and Helen Gells of Monmouth Junction.

Town Club Plans Outing. Volleyball and softball will be featured at the Town Club's spring outing Sunday at Bowman's Hill in Pennsylvania's Washington Crossing State Park.

Members and guests should pack lunches and arrive at the Chambers Street Parking lot at 1 p.m. J. Bruce Rankin is chairman.

Hun Auxiliary Elects. Mrs. Joseph P. Donohue of 320 Hamilton Avenue has been elected president of the Hun School Auxiliary for 1957-58. She will succeed Mrs. James A. McFadden, retiring president.

The Auxiliary is an organization of students' mothers and interested friends designed primarily to raise funds for scholarships to benefit Mercer County boys wishing to attend the Hun. Two such scholarships were awarded by the auxiliary for the coming year. Officers of the group include: Mrs. Donald Reynolds of Princeton, second vice-president.

Bookmobile Service Expands. The Mercer County Library will employ both its bookmobiles in direct neighborhood service thus expanding its usual lending service, it was announced this week by the library. The expansion was made possible by assigning the bookmobile usually serving schools to neighborhood service for adults and children.

The enlarged bookmobile program has been approved by the County Library Commission in order to meet the increased demand for books from all age groups. The service will begin June 24. Those living in municipalities served by the County Library and wishing the bookmobile to stop in their neighborhoods should contact Robert Malone, Library Director, at the County Court House.

PAC WINS OPENER
South Brunswick Beaten. The South Brunswick Beaten. The Princeton Athletic Club, which won the Tri-County League title in 1954 and 1955 and finished second last year, will play its first home game of the 1957 season at 6:15 p.m. this Friday on the Princeton High diamond. Manager Charlie Perpetue's club will take a one-game winning streak into the contest, having topped South Brunswick in the season's starter, 8-4, on Tuesday evening.

Infielder Bob Montgomery, a star at Perpetue's club, expected to make a good showing this summer. Infielder Al Ammerman, first base, Harold Phoe, pitcher, Eddie Meyers, outfield; Bill Roeder, outfield; Bobby Cox and Del White, infielders, and Robin Foster, outfield.

SAME TEAM WINS

Drake's Still Unbeaten. Loop-leading Drake's (6-0) experienced little difficulty remounting undefeated this week as ASCOP (24-1) fell by the wayside, 14-1. It was the Applied Scientists' second loss of the week—a make-up contest having been taken up by Gannino's, 11-2—as Bill Berni pitched another strong game for Drake's.

Sliding close on the heels of the No. 1 nine in the Princeton Community Softball League were the Sportsmen (4-1-1), who overwhelmed the Nassau Club, 11-3, and the Nassau Social Club (4-2-0), which regained its triumphant form by turning back Sennino's (3-2-2) by a 4-1 margin. Winning hurler Harry Kahny and Jake Bertolino each contributed three hits and Buddy Cavanaugh socked a home-run for the Sportsmen, while brother Jim Kahny tossed the NSC victory, aided by George Sella and Jack Petrone with a pair of pivotal safeties apiece.

In the league's only other meeting, Frazee's (2-4) nosed out Peasens's Builders (1-5) in a free-swinging affair, 12-10. The girls' division of the PCSL saw the Yankees show their real power and slaughter Bell Telephone, 25-8. Millie Trani and Emma Lufano, each with four-for-four, and Carol Tamasi, with two homers, sparked the winners.

News Of The CHURCHES

Lutheraans to Be Hosts. Members of the Lutheran Church of the Messiah will be hosts to a "Youth Caravan" of the International Walther League which will visit Princeton from June 21-23.

"Caravans" are young men and women chosen for special qualities of leadership and for well-rounded Christian personalities. In teams of three, they are touring the United States and Canada this summer to assist Lutheran churches with their youth projects. The Walther League is the young people's organization of the Lutheran Church.

The three young visitors, who are college students or recent graduates, will visit in the homes of parishioners. They will hold informal conferences with Dr. Richard Heaps, pastor of various church groups and, of course, with members of Princeton's Walther League. Their aim is to help the youths of the congregation plan their activities more effectively.

Bulletin Notes. All children from four years of age to Junior High are welcome to attend the Vacation church school at the First Reformed Church of Rocky Hill. The school will be held from June 24 to July 9, 9 a.m. to noon. In Penns Neck, the First Baptist Church will hold a Vacation Bible School from June 24 to July 3.

"Finding True Security" is the subject of a recording series radio program which will be broadcast over WOR's "Radio Chapel" this Sunday at 9:30 a.m.

Calvary Baptist children will have a picnic next Saturday, June 22, at Lebanon. This church ranked fourth among the 20 churches of the Trenton Baptist Association in securing new members for 1956.

...Next to Godin's...

Once around the church and you've got a gleaming, spotless car.

Members and seniors of the Kingston Presbyterian Westminster Fellowship will hold a "Car-Wash" this Saturday at 10:30 (the church from 9:30 to 10:30) to raise money for their members to attend the summer camp and conference sponsored by the Presbyterian church. Last year's car-wash netted $130.

The car starts its circumnavigation of the church with a "hush" and a "hiss" as the car is washed. Then it moves along an efficient assembly line and the boy gives it a gleaming shine, wiping and polishing with the chemos.

Technically, the work is all done by the boys and girls, but customers should not be surprised if they encounter the pastor, the Rev. Henry W. Heaps, sloshing around in "Fellowship" with the rest.

There is no set fee for the car-wash but contributions are accepted at the end of the assembly line.

Topics Of The Town

PCO Graduates 25, Princeton Country Day School, which graduates class of 25 seniors, heard Dean of the Chapel Ernest Gordon speak Monday night at the school's 33d commencement exercises. The Rev. David H. McAlpin, Jr., a PCO graduate who is while an assistant pastor of the Witherspoon Presbyterian church, gave the invocation.

Dr. McAlpin, who has been awarded the prizes and diplomas, with Harrison S. Fraker, Jr. and Webb Harrison, Jr. sharing the school's highest honor, the Headmaster's Cup. Harrison was also honored with a cup as the seniors' best all-around athlete.

The Faculty Cup ("manhood, learning, gentleness") went to William A. C. Harris, while an award for endeavor and improvement in the senior class went to Douglas M. Rompona and Robert J. Baker. Curs awarded by the alumni and the school for high scholarship were won by Richard Baker, 3d, Warren F. Elmer, 3d won the lower school scholarship; George C. Stuess was given the endeavor and improvement in Form V; and Robert N. Oils won the Lance Raymond shield for "spirit, loyalty and sportsmanship" in Form I.

Members of the Class of 1957 and the schools they will attend next year: C. Beveridge Aaron, Jr., Hotchkiss; Samuel A. Andrew, Hurl; Edward S. Barclay, Jr., Hotchkiss; Howard M. Bushnell, Choate; James Carey, Jr., Fomfret; Stephen Crawford, Choate; Harrison S. Fraker, Jr., Exeter; Darius F. Harrison, Princeton High; Louis C. Hano, 3d, Fiske; William A. C. Harris, Lawrenceville; E. Webb Harrison, Jr., Andover; Stafford W. Keegan, Jr., Darrow; Robert C. Kuser, Jr., Canterbury.

Also, Frederic J. Mock, Andover; William M. Morse, Portsmouth Priory; John E. Postley, Jr., Exeter; Douglas M. Rompona, Stuart Robson, Jr., Richard L. Rotman, James M. Shea and William W. Smith, Hotchkiss; Lawrenceville; C. Morgan Shipway, 3d, Westminster; Robert O. Smith, Taft; Hugh D. Wise, 3d, Andover; and Joseph H. Wright, 3d, St. George's.

Mrs. Fine's Graduates Thirteen. Thirteen girls were graduated Tuesday from Mrs. Fine's School at 55th commencement. President-elect Robert Goheen of Princeton University was the speaker.

Members of the class and their plans for next year are: Elizabeth H. Baker, to spend next year at Oxford; Emma S. Barclay, Mary Baldwin College; Bettina A. Burdick (honors), Smith; Anne R. Eldred, Douglass; Allison M. Kramer, Connecticut College for Women; Nancy B. Miller, Wheelock College; and Marianne S. Peskine, (American Field Service student), to return to Paris.

Also Eugene D. Rudin (highest honors), Radcliffe; Susan B. Smith, Goucher; Sandra W. Strachan, Centenary; Mary C.

Stunsky, Barnard; Helen W. Turnbull, (honors), Smith; and Rosalind Webster, (highest honors), Wellesley.

Miss Turnbull was awarded Governor of the school's highest athletic award, for participation on varsity teams, excellent sportsmanship, highest standards of citizenship, loyalty, spirit and leadership. She also received the school's highest honor award, the Silver Medal presented by the Class of 1927, as the senior who has contributed most to the spirit of the school through outstanding citizenship and leadership.

Melissa Dilworth received the Silver "E" awarded to a member of class VIII for active participation in athletics, for qualities of citizenship, loyalty, spirit and leadership. The Middle School honor award, a Gold Key, was given to Margaret, who as a member of class VIII who has shown fine citizenship and contributed most to the spirit of the school.

Miss Rudd received a special award from the Women's College Club of Princeton, and Miss Peskine a special book award and commendation. First prize winners of Link annual literary awards were: Lucinda Brown, class VII, middle school poetry; Melissa Tomlinson, class VII, middle school poetry; Jennifer Dunning and Deborah Smith, class X, upper school poetry and fiction.

Burbridge, class XII, upper school prose. Miss Webster won a National Merit Scholarship, while Miss Rudd received a certificate of merit.

DRIVERS FINED

Borough Penalties Large. James Reichert, 27, of 238 Nassau, was fined $145 for reckless driving and failure to obey an officer's signal, Magistrate Chesbro said. The magistrate also recommended a two-year revocation of driver's license for the motorist who skidded into the rear of another vehicle at the Nassau-Harrison intersection 30 days ago.

Another guilty plea, entered by Frederick Wayman Jr. of Morrisville, brought the 23-year-old driver a fine of $145 for reckless driving and failure to obey an officer's signal, Magistrate Chesbro said. The magistrate recommended to Harrisburg that the young man's license be revoked for an indefinite period.

The Pennsylvania driver, who led Princeton Borough police on a 100-mile-an-hour chase from Princeton to Plainsboro, was penalized $265 in Plainsboro several weeks ago for similar charges stemming from the same incident. An "indefinite probation" sentence attributed to him last time by Town Topics was later found to be erroneous. Last week, the youth was freed of suspicion in an armed robbery case in Bucks County.

In other cases, the magistrate heard the following Princetonians: James A. Howard, 28, of 131 John Street, $35 for permitting an unlicensed driver to use his car; John J. Dismick, 24, of 138 Witherspoon Street, $25 for failure to have license and registration in his possession; William M. Stewart, 21, of 26 Westcott Road, and Joseph A. Vangren, 23, of the Princeton Inn, $25 for blocking Douglas Remsen Jr., Lincoln Highway, Kingston, $10 for passenger overcrowding; Mrs. Catherine B. Thomas, 53, of 10 Worcester Street, $10 for blocking traffic.

"BROOKSTONE"

Q—What is Brookstone?
A—Brookstone is the former Russell estate of 210 acres which is being improved into 76 building plots for sale to discerning purchasers.

Q—Where is Brookstone?
A—Brookstone is in the exclusive Western Section of Town at Rosedale Road and along historic Stony Brook. It is surrounded by the homes and estates of many prominent families of Princeton. It lies entirely within the Township of Princeton.

Q—What effort would the proposed dam have on Brookstone?

A—Brookstone is downstream from the proposed dam and would not be adversely affected. The water level of brookdale lake would be stabilized, thus increasing their value.

Q—Are any homes under construction at Brookstone?

A—Yes. Other purchasers of lots are completing plans to have their homes built.

Q—How large are the plots?

A—Each homestead is at least 2 acres; others more than 2½ acres. Some plots have frontage on picturesque Stony Brook. Most lots are beautifully wooded; the rest are natural farmland.

Q—How many plots are available?

A—No more than 15 building sites are for sale this year.

Q—Are the utilities in?

A—Public water supply and electricity is now available to every plot in Section A. A performance bond has been posted with the Township of Princeton guaranteeing all improvements.

Q—Are there restrictions?

A—To safeguard the purchaser, deed restrictions have been filed to assure architecture in harmony with the natural beauty of the area. Entrance to Brookstone is only by way of Fairway Drive, a 1½ mile wide approach of 2 one-way roads flanked by a landscaped center mall. No individual driveways are permitted onto Rosedale Road.

Q—Can a purchaser choose his own architect and builder?

A—Yes.

Q—Is title insurance available?

A—Yes. Plots are guaranteed and insured by a qualified title insurance title policy. All lots in Section 1 are free and clear of any mortgage.

Q—How much is a lot?

A—Prices start from $10,000 for each acre.

Q—Who has more information and map of Brookstone?

A—See your own Broker or Realtor.
